Does PsyAsia have offices in India?

We are asked this question a lot! Thank you to our friends in India for your interest.

At the current time we do not have offices in India. We do not run public training courses in India either. That said, we have many Indians on our online psychometric courses and we typically welcome at least 2 Indians per in-person course that we run in Hong Kong.

We DO currently sell our online psychometric test products to clients in India. We also run in-house training in psychometrics and human resource management topics in India.
