Does PsyAsia offer training in psychometric test administration?

Psychometric Test Administration · https://psyasia.com/kb/does-psyasia-offer-training-in-psychometric-test-administration/

Yes. PsyAsia offers both in-person and online psychometric test administration courses.

Individuals are provided with the opportunity to attend a course which offers them with the essential tools needed in order to competently practice the administration of ability and personality assessments. By attending this course, candidates have the opportunity to meet with our highly experienced registered organisational psychologists.

All the training courses meet the stringent syllabus requirements of the British Psychological Society.
