We have a 45 day cookie period. This means that if the customer is referred by you today, they may purchase from us anytime between now and the next 45 days and you would still receive the commission, provided the customer does not delete their cookies. If they do, they would need to revisit your link in order to revalidate the cookie for another 45 days. Once a customer has made a purchase, all future purchases will be credited to you for commission.
