Who is PsyAsia International?

Psychometric Test Purchasing · https://psyasia.com/kb/who-is-psyasia-international/

PsyAsia International is Asia's leading independent provider of psychometric tests and psychometric training. Our business is managed and staffed by fully registered organisational psychologists who are experts in psychometric testing. In addition to offering psychometric products such as personality assessments and aptitude tests, we provide world-class human resource management training courses and management consultancy. Our focus on science and ensuring that all solutions are based on evidence sets us apart from other providers of these services. As organisational psychologists, we undergo on average of at least 6 years of training, followed by supervised practice and then must undertake and submit evidence of continuous professional development to the registration boards and associations that we are members of. We must also agree to abide by a code of ethical practice. Thus in order to practice we must meet strict requirements that are similar to those of medical doctors!
