Why can I not find the course I am interested in?

Training FAQs · https://psyasia.com/kb/why-can-i-not-find-the-course-i-am-interested-in/

PsyAsia lists all currently published course dates at https://psyasia.com/events

If the course you are interested in is not listed there then it is not currently scheduled to run publicly. We can offer you the option of in-house training though. In this case we come to you and run the training for your team. Also, if you have a small team of say 4+ interested individuals, we may work with you to set dates for a future public course.

If the course you are interested in was previously advertised for a date which is later than the current date and the course is no longer listed at https://psyasia.com/events this is probably because it is fully booked. That said, you may wish to register for our START ANYTIME Independent Mode Online courses which are advertised that the same link above.

Should you have any further queries about our courses, kindly contact us.
